Digitally Printed Landscapes: Southwest Series by Michael Reichmann

Here's your chance to own the latest digitally printed images by PT Contributing Editor Michael Reichmann.

A former Ilfochrome (Cibachrome) printer, photojournalist and view camera instructor, Reichmann today is publisher of The Luminous Landscape (www.luminous-landscape.com), the world's largest, independent, non-commercial web site devoted to photography. With a rich background in traditional photography, Reichmann enjoys blending both mediums to produce these breathtaking landscapes.

B. Guyser Glow

A. Bosque 1123

C. Branches Moon

D. Log Lake

These stunning images were captured on Reichmann's Canon D60 and 1Ds digital cameras, as well with his medium format cameras. The images were scanned with an Imacon Flextight Scanner (when necessary), and printed on an Epson 2200 using 13x19 archival matte paper and Epson Ultrachrome inks. Each print is signed in the margin on the front border.

Reichmann's prints sell in galleries for $350-500 each, but he has agreed to offer these images for only $80 each. Or purchase four or more for only $65 each (more prints can be found online).

This is a limited offer, and paid orders must be received by April 30, 2003. Please allow 12 weeks after the order deadline for delivery.
